Anne Miller Joins The Little Flower Shoppe As Retail and Event Director

Ridgewood, NJ (January 18, 2010) – Anne Miller has joined The Little Flower Shoppe in Ridgewood, NJ as Retail and Event Director. A former head floral designer at New York’s landmark Pierre Hotel, Miller is an award-winning designer whose work has been featured in leading consumer magazines such as Bride’s, InStyle, Town & Country and Travel + Leisure. Her appointment was announced by Chris Raimondi, CLP, President and CEO of The Raimondi Group, Inc., which owns and operates The Little Flower Shoppe. “We look forward to having Anne add her expertise and artistic floral compositions to the shop’s current repertoire, further enhancing its long-standing reputation as one of the premier florists in northern New Jersey,” said Raimondi.

Miller brings 20 years of experience to her new post. Previously, she was associated with Atlas Floral Decorators and David Tutera. She also owned and operated Willow Fine Flowers and Design in Philadelphia (which Gourmet magazine called “a destination not to be missed”), where her clients included the Four Seasons Hotel, the Academy of Fine Arts and the Philadelphia Museum of Art, for which she designed and produced a blockbuster gala showcasing the portraits of Vincent Van Gogh and many luxurious wedding and events in premier venues and private estates.

A fixture on Ridgewood Avenue for more than 15 years, The Little Flower Shoppe pairs a European sensibility with 21st century style and sophistication. Distinctive and original, the shop specializes in exquisite fresh flowers, holiday decor and home accessories. The shop is located at 160 E. Ridgewood Ave., Ridgewood; 201-652-7600.

Locally based for more than 35 years, The Raimondi Group features three distinctive divisions: Raimondi Horticultural Group, a full-service horticultural firm providing expert commercial interior landscape services, exterior landscape development, plant rentals and holiday decorating services; LFS Productions, a full service special event design firm; and The Little Flower Shoppe.
